The Emerald Necklace Conservancy hosted its 15th annual Party in the Park luncheon on Thursday, May 31. The fundraiser proved a resounding success, raising $1.2 million towards the preservation of the parks. The celebration also featured a musical performance from the Boston Symphony Orchestra, remarks from Mayor Marty Walsh, and an appearance from the Boston Park Ranger Mounted Unit, which serve as park keepers for the Emerald Necklace.

Q: What do you recommend for sunscreen?
A: Thank you for asking such an important question. I founded SkinHealth in 1999 as a result of my sister dying of melanoma, the most deadly form of skin cancer, at the age of 40. My goal is to help prevent melanoma deaths by providing the best sun protection possible.

At SkinHealth we offer seven different sunscreens so there is something for everybody. All of our sunscreens are broad spectrum and have a high SPF. Most of them are mineral-based for superior protection and contain between 5% to 17% micronized zinc oxide, which deflects damaging UVA rays. Our sunscreens are invisible on the skin, water resistant, and unlike many other sunscreens, contain no fragrance and are not greasy. Our sunscreen has been selected by Health Magazine as the best in the country.

Please stay safe this summer and consider using SkinHealth sunscreens!

Cheryl Clarkson
M.S., MIT
CEO & Founder
SkinHealth Centers

Ask Cheryl

37 Newbury Street, Boston 617-267-7546
251 Washington Street, Wellesley 781-431 7880
www.skinhealthcenters.com

Photos: Gen Tracy

The Men's Table
RoAnn Costin and JC Monahan

Max Bleakie and Vivian Spiro

Michelle Wellington, Doris Yaffe and Nancy Williams

Adele Chang, Vivian Li, Teresita Alvarez-Bjelland, Lily Poduska Flitely, Suaan Poduska, Jill Goldweitz, Laura Baldini and Sarah Mars

Kathleen McIntyre, Holly Safford, Danielle Frissell, Wendy Shattuck, Julie Gordon, Elena Matlack and Ellie Chin

Ursula Li and Kelsey Wirth, 2018 Life Spirit Awardee

Renee Lavi, John Linehan, Jane Roy and Lynn Dale

Jane Hoch and Katie Schuller Bleakie

Photo: Michael Blanchard Photography